

Janco distribute Medical Supply to NGO in these extraordinary times

02/04/2020

Janco is committed to care for the community, specially to support the disadvantaged, non-profit groups and arranging donations of surgical masks in this critical situation.

Janco make the use of extensive network established over the years to successfully purchase compliant and safety surgical masks from around the world. In earlier time, Janco donated a bundle of medical materials to the Hong Kong Rehabilitation Society to cope with their daily life, minimize the risk of travelling to and from hospitals, thus reduce the chance of infection. It is hoped that the plan will also ease the pressure on non-profit-making organizations to collect anti-epidemic materials, and to support vulnerable groups and promote universal anti-epidemic efforts.

Janco will continue to fulfill its social responsibilities, cooperate with social welfare agencies, and encourage company employees to participate in voluntary work and promote personal health and other related activities, so as to build up the values of them and their family members to give back to society.
